

Josh Cooper

Senior Review Communicator

"There is nothing better than the end of the day"

ABOUT

Josh Cooper serves as a middleman between the data scientist and the non-data-oriented employees. While he has experience working with data, many of the people he supports do not, so he spends most of his time explaining the current tools and results to them.

LIKES

Straight forward output. Good looking results. Easy to remember commands.

DISLIKES

Laggy computer programs. Needlessly complicated UI.

MAIN NEEDS

I need a clear, unbiased tool for informing others about our reviews, and it must be understandable to people with less data experience.

WANTS

I would also like this new system to be able to finish task in a timely manner. In addition, I would like a better way to access and understand the reviews and ratings.
